That friendly sizzle of the meat over the glowing charcoal fire wafts an aroma around your friends and family that is pure pleasure. Years from now, the same aroma may bring back memories of a shared moment - perhaps of this very week-end. These are the good times - the times to treasure. Make your plans and then make your choice of Little Bay's foods. What will it be? Chicken, Steak, Spare Ribs, Hamburgers, Franks - we have them all. Salads and cole slaws and fruits and pickles and watermelon. Come in. Choose your pleasure.

master, the presiding officer; the superintendent as overseer through whose competent hands the orders of the master were faithfully transmitted to the "laborers", and so on down to the gatekeeper. Many of those large estates referred to were high walled with heavy gates and always safely guarded by gatekeepers. Other titles, such as lecturer, chaplain, treasurer and secretary, were determined by the nature of their duties. The founders of the Grange reached into the ancient mythology to establish the three goddesses in conjunction with the order: Ceres, Pomona and Flora, who preside over Grain, Fruit and Flowers.

Mr. Elliott also spoke of a Memorial Chapel dedicated to the 100 years of the Grange to be erected in Arlington Cemetery, and of the Grange Centennial postage stamp issued this year.

The National Grange will be in session in New York in November. Four preliminary meetings will be held in this State when the 6th degree will be given. One will be in Plymouth

A newly-formed chorus, directed by Mrs. Lee S. Root, presented a program. Selections included "Hither Come", "Church in the Wildwood", "Loves Old Sweet Song", and "Smile, Smile, Smile". Members of the chorus were Mrs. Edward C. Toolis, Mrs. Walter Vaughan, Miss Christine Bence, Miss Susan Bence, Mrs. Mary Costa, Mrs. Olive Ellis, Miss Corrinne Lawrence, Lee Root, Edward Alves, Dennis Sylvia and Herbert LaFleur. Piano accompanist was Walter Caswell. The ladies in chorus were dressed in lovely old fashioned dresses.

Guests were present from Fairhaven, Marion, Wamsutta, Acushnet, West Wareham, Rochester, Westboro and Upton Granges. Also present were Mark Harris, master of the Mattapoisett Junior Grange; Selectman and Mrs. John Field and Selectman and Mrs. George S. White.

Sandwiches, cake, coffee and punch were served. Mr. Caswell played the piano for dancing.

YELLOW STOP SIGNS TO BE CHANGED

Mattapoissett Selectmen have received a letter from R. J. Kelleher, District Traffic Engineer, who reports that existing yellow stop signs do not meet present department standards. He recommends that: standard red stop signs by reerected on North and Church Streets; a solid white 4" center line be painted 200' on each approach of Church Street; a solid yellow 4" center line on each approach of North Street; 12" stop lines on North Street to supplement the stop signs; a standard 4-way intersectional warning sign erected 300' to 400' in advance of the intersection on Church Street for motorists entering the center of town; a standard crosswalk painted across Church Street to connect the sidewalks; warning crosswalk signs could also be erected on Church Street.

Maine is a dead ringer for our own Ned's Point lighthouse and for the light at Bird Island. This light at Pemaquid is high on a cliff for a spectacular view of the ocean and surf that carves the surrounding rocks. It was built in 1824 and is now automatic, although the keeper's house is still attached. From this point Monhegan Island is visible. This is the island where Norsemen reportedly landed about 1000 A.D. The Naval battle between the American "Enterprise" and the British "Boxer", both brigs, took place just below, between Pemaquid Point and the island, and inhabitants watched and cheered from the cliff at the American victory.

HASTINGS KEITH INTRODUCES BILL FOR A MARINE SANCTUARY AREA

A "marine sanctuary area" for the waters of the Geroges Bank may become the object of a Federal study if a bill introduced by Congressman Hastings Keith (R.-Mass.) becomes a law. The proposal calls for the Department of the Interior to initiate a study of "the most feasible and desirable means of establishing a marine sanctuary" in the waters off Cape Cod and in similar off-shore areas in other parts of the country.

The Cape Cod Congressman said that the purpose of his bill was to save distinctive areas of our Nation's offshore marine environments for sport and commercial fishing, recreation, scenic beauty, and scientific values. He noted that industrial and mining activities threatened to damage or destroy certain of these natural environments around the country.

In remarks to the House of Representatives,

Keith declared that the coastal oceans had become a "new frontier" for American industry and technology. The Georges Bank area off Cape Cod has itself been the site of exploration for gas and oil deposits by major oil companies. "While this exploitation of the oceans' riches goes on," Keith said, "it is necessary to give some enduring protection to certain distinctive areas which have special natural value." A Federal Study could determine what areas should be closed to mining development and how industrial purposes could be made compatible with fishing, recreational, and scenic values.

The bill calls for a 2-year, million-dollar study to be carried out by the Secretary of the Interior in cooperation with the States and interested private agencies. If the legislation is enacted into law, no further exploration or mining activities would be permitted in the designated offshore areas while the study is in progress.

CHURCH FAIR TO START WITH AUCTION

Marion's Congregational Summer Fair gets off to a rousing start tonight, July 26th, with an auction at Barden's Boat Yard on the waterfront. The event is expected to attract scores of bargain hunters as well as those who attend just to enjoy the excitement of a big sale and to listen to Auctioneer Dick Bourne's expert and entertaining performance.

The Fair itself will open at 10 A.M. Saturday on the church grounds in the center of the village. Other areas in use will be the General Store lot across the street, the bank parking lot just up the street, the Chapel grounds and the Lacey's yard adjacent to the Chapel.

Decorations, illustrating this year's theme,

"England - Yesterday and Today", will transform the blocked-off section of Main Street from School to Front Street into an authentic bit of Merrie England. Herbert Lyon and his helpers have made appropriate signs for the various booths and tables and will decorate the several areas with colorful touches ranging from Camelot to Piccadilly Square.

Aprons and fancy work, baskets and books, food and flowers, gifts and grabs, parcel post packages and pets - these are just a few of the items being assembled. There will be a green grocer's stall, an English tea garden, a local crafts table, an olde curiosity shoppe, a pub, gifts from near and far, a bake shop replenished as often as possible through the day, candies, toys, pictures and much more.

Live pets will be on sale in the Midway section. There will be a Kiddie Castle where the small fry can be "made up" by their teenage elders, photographic stand where visitors may have their pictures taken in a "stock" adorned in latest "mod" garb, tandem bicycle rides, fun, festivities and limitless bargains for all.

More than 40 pounds of lobster meat is packed away in home freezers as one item in preparation for the luncheon menu. Mrs. Joseph Walsh and her committee will be serving at the Sidewalk Cafe. In addition to the ever-popular lobster salad rolls, there will be chicken salad, crabmeat, egg salad, tuna, ham, and peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, along with assorted sweets and beverages.

History of "Wanderer"

Whaling Bark Wanderer was the last vessel built at Mattapoisett.

The Whalemens' Shipping List published at New Bedford, under date of April 23, 1878, says:

"Bark Wanderer."

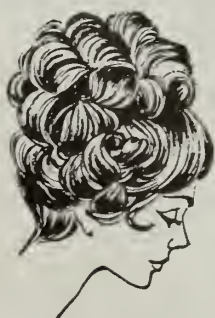

"Launched. The new Bark Wanderer, of 303 tons burthen was successfully launched from the Shipyard of J. H. Holmes & Son, at Mattapoisett on the 16th inst. She is owned by Messrs. Gifford and Cummings of this City and will be fitted for a whaling voyage to the North and South Atlantic Oceans, to be commanded by Captain Andrew R. Heyer, late of Bark George & Susan. She is a First Class vessel of beautiful model, and for completeness in every respect reflects credit upon the skill of her builders and the liberality of her owners."

Official number of the bark was 80665, her letters; J. S. V. K. She was 303.28 tons Gross; 288.13 Net; 116.2 feet in length; 27.6 feet in beam; and 15.8 feet in depth.

On June 4, 1878, the Wanderer sailed on her first voyage under command of Captain Andrew R. Heyer. She was bound for the Atlantic Ocean. She returned May 23, 1882 in charge of Captain Layton. Her catch was 2600 barrels of oil.

Her second voyage began August 29, 1882. She was commanded by Captain Thomas J. Mc Lane, and sailed for the North Pacific Ocean. Later, Captain Thuman took over the vessel, and the Wanderer went into San Francisco No-

The agents of the Wanderer on her first voyage were Gifford and Cummings, and later Swift and Allen. When she started her second voyage John P. Knowles, 2nd, was her agent and he was succeeded by Josiah N. Knowles.

For the next 18 years after 1883, the home port of the Wanderer was changed to San Francisco, and she made 11 voyages to the North Pacific and Arctic Oceans. These voyages were of one year duration; the whaler sailing in December and returning to San Francisco the following November.

On these Arctic voyages, she was commanded by the following skippers: Thuman, Smith, Winslow, Corrigan, Cleveland, Smith, Macomber, McInnis and Porter.

Her 13th voyage in command of Captain Porter was of four years duration. She sailed March 15, 1894 and the Wanderer returned to San Francisco October 14, 1898. Four winters the vessel had spent frozen in off Herschell Island in the Arctic Ocean. The result of this long voyage was seven whales.

The Wanderer remained in port after this voyage, and Edwin L. Griffiths who had been her agent for the last four years, sold his interests to A. R. Nelson.

April 14, 1900, the whaler was withdrawn and she went into the merchant service. It is quite probable that she carried supplies to Nome, Alaska, for the Klondike miners.

In the latter part of 1902 or early in 1903, Captain Timothy C. Allen, of New Bedford, Mass., became her agent; her home port was changed back to New Bedford; and on February 19, 1903, she sailed from San Francisco, on a whaling voyage in command of Captain Benjamin D. Cleveland. She made a journey back home around Cape Horn and arrived at New Bedford September 4, 1904, after an absence of 22 years. Her catch on this voyage was 820 barrels sperm oil.

After 1904, New Bedford was the home port of the Wanderer, and all subsequent voyages were made from this port. The whaler sailed

The Wanderer returned in 1917 from a four year's voyage, under command of Captain Antone T. Edwards, with a cargo of 6200 barrels of oil; the largest voyage to her credit, and perhaps the largest in number of barrels of oil in the history of whaling.

Good luck had seemed to follow the Wanderer in her career as a whaler, although once in the noise we could and slowed him up but he came alongside and tried to bite a piece out of her. At 10 o'clock, he cut 4th mate's boat in two, killed one man and hurt another pretty bad, so boats had to cut, next morning at 10 o'clock, raised same whale 4 miles to windward, dead. Got him alongside and cut him in. Made just 100 barrels."

During the summer of 1922, the Wanderer, which had just returned from a voyage, was chartered by the Whaling Film Company, and put under sail south of Noman's Land, and she was used in many of the stirring scenes of the famous moving picture, "Down to the Sea in Ships".

In 1924, although profits in whaling for several years had been rather slim, Captain Antone T. Edwards, who had been skipper of the Wanderer for about 10 years, and who was a heavy owner in the whaler, decided to fit out for another voyage. On August 25th, 1924, the Wanderer sailed on what fate had decided was to be her last voyage. A light head wind had prevented the bark from going to sea that day, so the tug left her anchored a mile or so west of Mishaum Ledge bell buoy, in Buzzards Bay. Captain Edwards and his friends returned to the city leaving the whaler in charge of the First Mate, Joseph A. Gomes, a whaleman of long experience. He had only fifteen men as a crew, some of these were working their passage to the Islands. The plan had been to go to Brava and there ship a crew for whaling.

That night, a gale arose and by noon the next day the storm had reached hurricane proportions. At the height of the gale, the anchor chain parted, and a second anchor which was dropped, dragged. The steering gear went out of commission, and in this helpless state she was driven upon the treacherous rocks of the island of Cuttyhunk. The entire crew was saved but the vessel became a total loss. Wreckers salvaged provisions, whaling gear, sails, etc. from the wreck. The stout, rugged hull of the Wanderer remained wedged between the rocks until a second storm, which occurred September 30th, entirely destroyed it.

Thus ends the record of the last active square-rigged whaler out of New Bedford.

MATTAPOISETT DOWN THROUGH THE YEARS

The first of the summer's special exhibits at the Mattapoisett Historical Museum displays several hundred old pictures of the town's events, people, and places down through the years. The pictures, attractively mounted, are arranged in groups featuring the harbor, Ned's Point, schools, organizations, "Can you remember?" snow scenes, people, celebrations, etc. A special display honors the late Mr. Lemuel LeBaron Dexter, "Mr. Mattapoisett".

The pictures are from the collection in the museum and were mounted and chosen by Miss Minerva Sparrow. The exhibit was arranged by Miss Mildred Jones Keefe, Miss Dorothy Fox, Mr. Francis Rowland and Mr. Charles Mendell, Curator, and is open this week, Tuesday through Saturday, 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 P.M.

YOUTH EXHIBIT

All the young people are invited to take part in the Youth Exhibit to be held in the Mattapoisett Historical Museum on August 15, 16 and 17th.

The exhibit will include collections, hobbies, models that you have built, original drawings or paintings.

Will you register so space can be reserved for your exhibit? Please call Mrs. Donald L. Nahigyan or Mrs. Earl Masterson, 758-6910, or stop in at the museum any afternoon.

TEL & TEL CO. ASKS FCC TO RECONSIDER

The American Telephone and Telegraphy Company today announced that it will ask the Federal Communications Commission to reconsider and modify major provisions of its July 5th order setting a 7.0 to 7.5 percent return on the Bell System's investment for interstate services.

The deadline for such a petition is August 4th, thirty days from the date of the Commission's order. The Company indicated that it will seek a review not only of the portions of the Commission's order dealing with rate of return but also of those dealing with methods of separating investment and expenses between intra-state and interstate services and those dealing with exclusions from the interstate rate base.

In a statement released with its announcement, the Company said -

"Our initial disappointment with the terms of the Commission's decision has been confirmed by our detailed study since. We had hoped for a more creative approach to regulation of our business.

"Our business, like any other, needs the

Special additive in today's Shell Heating Oil helps give more warmth per gallon, top heating performance

There's a new additive in today's Shell Heating Oil. Called FOA-5X, this Shell product works round the clock to protect your fuel system—from storage tank to burner head. FOA-5X helps reduce build up of heat-robbing deposits that can collect in critical areas of your burner. It lets Shell Heating Oil burn in a radiant, even flame. It helps reduce service calls and expense. The result: more warmth per gallon of fuel—top performance at minimum cost. Before you buy your next gallon of heating oil, call us. We will give you complete details about Shell Heating Oil with FOA-5X and about our service.

centives that give rise not only to earnings improvements but to continuing progress in communications as well.

Separating plant and expenses between intrastate and interstate services specified by the Commission did not figure at all in the long and detailed hearings on this subject. Fairness requires - and our petition will seek - an open hearing on this plan, together with the opportunity to cross-examine its sponsor."
